Two Year Warranty

Enjoy Skype, music, and PC gaming with this package of Bluetooth products

If you have Skype, you know that it runs on your PC to make phone calls easier and less expensive. Now you can enjoy Skype while you roam free of wires that tether you to your computer. When a call's not in progress, enjoy crystal-clear music or other audio in digitally transmitted stereo.

The Model 4386 package includes a Bluetooth wireless headset with a built-in fold-down microphone, along with a Bluetooth wireless USB transmitter for your Windows PC. The result is a complete wireless solution for Skype, PC stereo music, and PC gaming. You can even listen to music on your PC, hear an incoming ring over the music, take a Skype phone call by pressing a button on the headset, and then switch back to music with another touch of the button. All of that while you roam an extended distance from your PC with wires-free comfort and convenience.
